

Neural Pathway Restructuring™ Association
Changing your past to create your future

Code Of Ethics

The primary mission of the Neural Pathway Restructuring™ Association is to enhance the well being of our clients and to assist them in their self-empowerment to lead fulfilling and successful lives.

Due to the sensitive nature of the Practitioner-Client relationship, we strive to maintain the highest standards of professionalism, thereby creating a safe and comfortable environment for both parties.

The following ethical standards are relevant to the professional activities of Associate Practitioners and Trainers of Neural Pathway Restructuring™.

The extent to which these standards are enforceable is a matter of professional judgment to be exercised by the officers of the Neural Pathway Restructuring™ Association.

Associate Practitioners Ethical Responsibilities to Clients:

- ❑ All financial arrangements, fees and contracts are discussed professionally prior to the appointment.
- ❑ We do not suggest to a client that they go against a physician's advice or treatment.
- ❑ We do not heal a client or their condition. We do however assist the client in alleviating symptoms, learning more about themselves and creating the life they choose.
- ❑ Associate Practitioners respect and promote the client's self-awareness and knowledge of what's best for them.
- ❑ We make every attempt to provide the highest quality of service to our clients. If for some reason we are unable to work with a client, we refer them to someone who may be able to help them. We never abandon our clients.
- ❑ We always follow up with our client's on a timely basis.
- ❑ Any form of sexual behavior or harassment with a client, even consensual, is unethical.
- ❑ All communication with a client is private and confidential.
- ❑ For teaching or publication purposes, any reference to a client is disguised.
- ❑ No taping or recording of clients is done without written consent.
